

French Culture, Blended Learning, Study Abroad

Research Topics

- 20th/21st-century French culture
- World War II in French literature, especially Marcel Aymé
- Blended learning in French courses
 - YouTube
 - VoiceThread
- Study Abroad (France, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Martinique)
 - Effects on students' intercultural communication competence
 - Interdisciplinary faculty-led programs

Contact Information:

Audra Merfeld-Langston

Associate Professor of French, Interim Chair
Arts, Languages, & Philosophy

Email: audram@mst.edu

Phone: (573) 341-4997

Funding

U.S. Department of Education, French Embassy, National Endowment for the Humanities, French-American Cultural Exchange, UM Research Board

Keywords

- French culture, World War II, Marcel Aymé, Blended Learning, Study Abroad, Intercultural Communication

Significant achievements

- “Judging a Book Town by Its Cover: Marketing France’s Villages du Livre” in Place and Locality in Modern France. Patrick Young and Philip Whelan (eds.). London: Bloomsbury Academic, 2014.
- Co-translations with S&T students for The Encyclopedia of Diderot & d’Alembert Collaborative Translation Project