

Innovation, Entrepreneurship and Sustainability

Research Topics

- Development and integration of innovation and entrepreneurship curriculum
- Active and experiential learning best practices
- Influence of technology/innovation on economic development
- Longitudinal study on corporate sustainability
- Sustainability driven innovation
- Wearable sensors for cognitive health assessment

Contact Information

Bonnie J. Bachman, PhD

Professor of Economics

Faculty Fellow

Director, I-Corps NSF/S&T Site program

College of Arts, Sciences, and Business

Email: bachmanb@mst.edu

Phone: (573) 341-4976

Keywords

- Innovation, entrepreneurship, I&E, sustainability, circular economy, active learning, experiential learning, cognitive health, cognitive task performance, wearable technology, business models

Significant Achievements

- Chancellor's Challenge Award (2016); Faculty Experiential Learning Award (2016); NSF I-Corps Recognition Award (2016)
- Faculty Fellow for Innovation and NSF I-Corps Site
- Funding from NSF, VentureWell, MTC (~$775K over 2.5 years)
- Pathways to Innovation Co-Lead with John Lovitt (Entrepreneur in Residence)
- Created Innovation in Education Grants for faculty development